Respect for Fundamental British Values

All staff have a duty to promote fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. Notably, we must prevent the political indoctrination of pupils through the curriculum. The aim is not to prevent pupils from being exposed to political views - they should be. However, pupils should not be actively encouraged by teachers or others to support particular political viewpoints. This is not restricted to support for political parties. In addition, schools have a duty to encourage respect for alternative lifestyles, even if staff or pupils would not choose the lifestyle for themselves. This covers the protected characteristics defined by the 2010 Equality Act:

It is against the law to discriminate against anyone because of:

- age
- being or becoming a transsexual person
- being married or in a civil partnership
- being pregnant or having a child
- disability
- race including colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin
- religion, belief or lack of religion/belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

At Cheltenham College Prep School we strive to ensure that every pupil reaches his or her true academic potential. From the beginning, in the Foundation Stage, staff are fostering the development of pupils' intellectual curiosity, ensuring academic rigour and encouraging children's ability to learn independently.

Although the curriculum at The Prep is based largely on the National Curriculum, in many respects it reaches far beyond. All areas of the school benefit from the expertise of specialist subject teachers – with PE and Swimming, Sport, Modern Language, Drama, Wellbeing and Music specialists teaching in Pre-Prep (Foundation Stage and Key Stage one), and in Lower School (National Curriculum Years 3 and 4). Once the pupils enter Year 5 subject specialists teach more of the curriculum and in Year 6, nearly all of the academic lessons are delivered by specialist teachers. On entering Upper School (Year 7 and Year 8) the pupils either work towards the Independent Schools Examination Board (ISEB) Common Entrance examinations in some subjects and a Cheltenham College curriculum and assessment in others, or Scholarship exams for entry to the 13+ senior school of their choice. Although many pupils continue to

Cheltenham College we also prepare pupils for entry to a variety of schools such as Eton, Marlborough, Cheltenham Ladies' College, Radley and Sherborne. (Refer to yearly overviews of the curriculum)

EYFS - Pupils in Foundation Stage 1 (The Nursery School) and Foundation Stage 2 (Reception) follow the Early Years Foundation Stage Framework closely. (Refer to EYFS Policy)

The Timetable

The Timetable is spread over 5 days for all pupils from Nursery School to Year 8. For Years 5-8, the day is split into lessons of 35 minutes with some subjects being taught in double periods. Pupils in Pre-Prep and Lower School have a timetable structured to meet the needs of their age phase. All pupils from Years 3 to 8 are expected to represent the school in matches on Saturday morning, if selected for a team, and all are expected to attend House Events scheduled on Saturday mornings.

Setting

Cheltenham Prep places pupils in ability sets/groups for subjects to ensure that pupils are working at the pace and level of challenge appropriate for them. This begins with some initial grouping in Phonics and Numeracy in Pre-Prep, as appropriate, and continues throughout the school in an increasing number of subjects. The structure of setting arrangements enables flexibility to meet the needs of individuals and cohorts within individual subjects. For instance, English may choose to structure sets with two top sets and two parallel lower sets. Science, however, may choose to have a top and bottom set and two parallel middle sets. The aim of all structures is to optimise pupil progress. By Year 8 a pupil will be placed in sets for most examined subjects and a set is created for those working towards academic scholarship exams. The pupils selected to attempt an academic scholarship are working to an earlier exam timeframe and to an extended syllabus, therefore a separate group is required to ensure that they have covered the right material and are ready to face their exams in good time.

Although avoided as far as possible, some subjects may be tied into setting based on another subject. For instance, children might be taught Art and DT in their French groups. Where this happened, languages should lead setting decisions with excellent differentiation being used to ensure individualised learning in those tied subjects.

The decision to place a pupil in a particular set is made to enable him or her to get the best support relative to his or her ability in the subject. Sometimes, a class teacher will feel that a pupil would be better served by changing set; this may follow assessments or exams sat by the entire year group but the decision to move a child will not be based solely on such data. Moving a pupil 'down' a set is never a punishment. It is only done when the teacher and the Head of Department consider that the pupil will be better supported in his or her learning by moving at a slightly slower pace, with a different member of staff, or in a different cohort. Parents are asked to trust The Prep's professional judgement in such matters; we do not take these decisions lightly. When a pupil changes set, the Head of Department will inform the parents and then discuss the proposed change with the pupil so that he or she understands the reasons for moving set. If parents are dissatisfied with such a decision, they should contact the relevant Head of Department or the Deputy Head (Academic). However, it should be re-emphasised that any change of set should leave a pupil in a better position to achieve, through working in a context more appropriate to his or her ability in the subject.
